OLD FIDDLERS.

The pictures of two old fiddlers, Price Gasham and Thomas Elherton, who took part in the contest which do not appear in the group above, could not be secured, as they were absent when the photograph was taken. Those who take their place, R. W. Lewis and John Askins, are old fiddlers of this community, and Mr. Lewis was one of the judges.

NEW TICKET IS ELECTED.

Progressive Ticket for Council Wins Over Citizens by Big Majority.

MUCH SCRATCHING WAS DONE.

In the election yesterday for city councilmen the new ticket, known as the Progressive, won over the old Citizens ticket by a majority ranging from 102 to 180, the average majority being 157. The first precinct gave the Progressive ticket an average vote of 40, the second 15, and the third 160. From the first precinct the Citizens ticket received an average vote of 20, from the second 10 and from the third 60.

There was much scratching, as will be seen from the official vote given below. Much interest was shown by the voters in the councilman election. Below follow the official returns:

Fine Price for Tobacco.

Gus Allen, of Garnettsville, sold two hogheads of trash and two of lugs in Louisville Monday at six cents net. This is considered a low price for tobacco of these grades.

Mrs. Maggie Funk Dead.

Bowlingville, Ky., Nov. 3.—(Special).—Mrs. Maggie Funk, who has been very ill several weeks, died Saturday night.

Tobacco Situation Unchanged.

The tobacco situation in this city, as far as can be learned, is unchanged. John Paulson is contemplating renting the Pace warehouse, in which case he will buy for Galleher & Co. If he does this it will be a good thing for the town in one way, as it will give employment to forty or fifty men. If the tobacco is not shipped to the company's large stemmeries, if this company buys here it is not known at present what effect it will have on prices. The public does not know whether Galleher & Co. belong to the tobacco trust. Some are inclined to think one way and some another. It is not known now whether they would cut prices on each other or not, but it is the opinion that Galleher & Co., like the American, will not improve the prices. The market for the tobacco grown in this section is still very uncertain and yet a matter of conjecture.

Report of Frymire School.

Examination held Oct. 22 and 23, 1903. The following pupils, having passed written examination on list of questions, not prepared with the intention of giving them something simple that they might all make a high average, but questions that would cause the pupil to think, made general averages as follows: Advanced Department—Anna Eppan, 97.2; E. Gertrude Allen, 94.7; W. Albert Robertson 94.7; Vanda H. Frymire, 93.2; Fannie B. Berger, 91.1; Victor H. Robertson, 87.8.

Intermediate Department—Lena Brashear, 94.4; John Popham, 94.3; Roy H. Bassett, 94; Jessie E. Braham, 93; Owen C. Bruner, 88.6; Merlie B. Bane, 91.6; Amy Barr, 84.1; Mollie Barr, 82; L. S. Brashear, 84.
Primary—Caroline Brashear, 92.5. I had at Frymire pupils, most of whom have, what is so essential, the proper training at home.

THE OLD COCK'S A CROWING IN BRECKENRIDGE COUNTY.

Moorman for Representative. Moore for Circuit Clerk.

Hancock Republican.

Hancock county went Republican yesterday in the election for Governor, Representative, Circuit Clerk and Circuit Judge. Belknap received 304 majority, Stewart, for Representative, 129 majority, Kyler, for Circuit Clerk, 100 majority, and Morrison, for Circuit Judge, 131 majority. The Republicans are claiming that the Sixth district will go for Morrison by a majority of 50.

Wm. C. Wheeler Dead.

William C. Wheeler, a prominent citizen of Perry county, died Saturday morning, October 31, at his home at Hardin Grove, Ind., after a long illness. The deceased was seventy-two years old. A widow and two sons survive him.

The funeral took place Monday morning at 11 o'clock from the residence, Rev. Taylor, pastor of the M. E. church, officiating. The burial was in the family graveyard.

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned wish to thank friends and relatives for their kind sympathy and aid in the sickness and death of the late William C. Wheeler.

The Family.

New Be Weyville Firm

Bowlingville, Ky., Nov. 3.—(Special).—A new firm, Bennett & Morris, takes the place of Bennett & Drury. Rev. George Morris having bought out Geo. Drury. Rev. Morris has also bought the dwelling owned by Thos. Anderson and will move soon.

Machinery Arrives.

The special machinery for making interlocking lining for the Murray Roading Ties Company has arrived from Bucyrus, O.

The big clay shed at the company's plant has been completed and clay is being stored under it for use in inclement weather. Manager Murray had a number of teams at work last week scraping away the upper soil near the clay hole in order that the clay, which is only a few feet below the surface, might be uncovered and easily available to the men employed in bringing it to the pug mill.

And Yet No Statement.

Although more than a month has elapsed since President Dancy, of the State Fair association, promised the Owensboro guarantee with financial statement of the receipts and expenditures of the second annual state fair, the report has not been received, and the probabilities are that the document will be delayed until after the association holds its annual meeting on November 4. There are a large number of unpaid accounts over the State and the creditors of the institution are clamoring for their money.

Enjoying Good Trade.

The merchants of this city are enjoying an excellent fair trade. All of them have brought on much new goods and it keeps their clerks busy to wait on their customers during the fall rush. On account of the heavy buying a number of the stores have had to employ more clerks. The trade is especially good on Saturdays and these good times for the merchants are only a few out of the many indications that Cloverport is on a boom.

OUR NEXT REPRESENTATIVE THE HON. D. C. MOORMAN OF GLENDEANE TOWN.

DEMOCRATS VICTORIOUS

In Breckenridge County in Both County and State Elections Tuesday.

ALL MAJORITIES ARE SMALL.

The election for state and county officers Tuesday in Breckenridge county was very close, the Democrats coming out ahead by small majorities. At all the precincts much enthusiasm was shown by the voters of both parties and it was predicted that the races would be close.

In the race for Representative the unofficial returns show that the Hon. D. C. Moorman, the Democratic candidate, received a majority of 43 over Matt Payne, the Republican candidate. In the race for Circuit Clerk Tom Moore, the Democratic candidate, received 54 more votes than W. S. Ball, the Republican candidate. Jolly, the Democratic candidate for Surveyor, Wheel Chief, Democratic candidate for Circuit Judge, and J. R. Layman, Democratic candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney, had no opposition from the Republican party.

Belknap won over Belknap by the small majority of 110. The election over the county was very quiet and no disturbances or franks have been reported. At Hudsonville, a Republican precinct, 26 ballots were thrown out as illegal. Voting for the Prohibition, Socialist and Socialist Labor ticket was very light and no votes were cast for any of these tickets in a number of precincts. Few votes also were cast for or against the Constitutional amendment. The vote for Governor, Representative and Circuit Clerk by majorities will be found on the last page of this issue in tabulated form.

STATE GOES DEMOCRATIC.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4, 1 a. m.—(Special).—Breckenridge carries the State by from 10,000 to 15,000 majority. The whole Democratic ticket in the city of Louisville elected by from 4,000 to 5,000 majority.

Dragging Pains

2925 Kewley St., CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groin. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had bleeding headaches and running of blood to the brain. What to try I had tried for it seemed that I had tried it all, and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Maudie Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and bleeding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by Short & Haynes.

A unique window display is to be seen at the W. B. Oelze jewelry store this week. On a green velvet covering a number of beautiful gold watches, watch fobs, etc., are displayed. The watch is attached to the pendulum of a clock, which is concealed. This window display is very attractive, like many others Mr. Oelze has had at his popular store.

HIS LIFE AND HIS ODDITIES.

M. F. Brown, Worth Thousands.
Lives on a Shanty Boat and Has a Pet Spider.

NOW IN CITY ON BUSINESS.

Lives on a shantyboat, is worth thousands of dollars, has a large pet spider, has had a varied and long experience as a riverman. The story of Millard F. Brown, while familiar, perhaps, to a few, is unknown to many people in this city and country.

Although this man's home was once only a few miles from this city and although he is now living on a shantyboat on the Ohio river just below this city, little is known to the general public of his life and eccentricities. While his case is not of an extraordinary nature, it is one among a thousand and will probably be of interest to the readers of the News.

A representative of the News paid Mr. Brown a visit in his shantyboat one day last week and had on his pleasant conversation with him, during which he learned much about his life as a riverman and some of his eccentricities. Mr. Brown has acquired the larger part of his education from experience and, in conversation, impresses one with his simple and yet instructive expressions. When he tells a story he throws his whole soul into it to his words and his face beams with pleasure at the telling.

Mr. Brown has had an experience as varied, perhaps, as that of any riverman in the country. He is an adept in two trades, that of boat carpenter and shipyard carpenter and he has served at various times as mate, cooper and watchman on a large number of boats. He has also spent several years railroad and in this way came into possession of the small fortune at his command. In 1872 he saw his first service on the Ohio river as fireman on the Danmor, one of the American Canal Coal Company's boats, at which time he was learning the engineer's trade. For nearly a score of years after this he boated out of Cairo, Ill., on the towboats of different companies. For a long time he was watchman on the old Chas. Brown, which was towed out of St. Louis, then by the Harry Brown, which belongs to the same company. After this he served on the Mississippi Valley Transportation Line's boats, part of the time as watchman and part as second mate. At one time he was mate of the Jennie Campbell, of the latter line, which was towing around Cincinnati, and later mate on the Jack Frost, which towed logs for a firm in St. Louis.

After this he was mate on the Louis Hook, which was towing railroad ties out of St. Louis. While on the Louis Hook he was employed on the Huntington & St. Louis towboats, among them the Jack Heathington, Friddle and Wash Shonnell.

The last towboat Mr. Brown served on was the T. H. Davis, which plied the Tennessee river in 1890 and towed logs from Watertown, near the source of the stream.

Besides serving on the towboats of private companies he was employed several years on Government boats towing rock for river improvements. Among these were the Emma Elbridge, Minnie Tonka and the Violette.

Mr. Brown was never employed on packets and during the summer months, when the large towboats could not run, he would put in his time railroad. At one time he worked for the Big Four as bridge carpenter and in 1892 repaired the bridge at the Cotton Belt route, which was a good paying position. While working for the Big Four he was badly hurt by some falling timbers while working with his crew. He was laid up for two months and then brought suit against the railroad for damages. This was in November, 1890, and in 1890 he won his suit and received $7,500 damages. Last spring he sold his farm near Tobinsport, Ind., to Dan Parish, formerly of this city, for $4,000.

Mr. Brown has been very saving with his money, but, strange to say, no one knows where it is and he won't tell them either. Although having sufficient money to build him a comfortable home and live in comfort the rest of his life he chooses to live alone on a small shanty boat. And this is one of his eccentricities. Another is his pet spider, which he calls "Frank." He thinks as much of Frank as you or I would think of a pet cat or dog. Frank is one of the largest spiders of his kind found in this part of the country. When Frank is in a good humor his master lets him go where he pleases, over the furniture of the room and over his hands and arms. When Frank is in this mood Mr. Brown gently strokes him on the back and thins Frank is a fine fellow. When Frank is in a bad way Mr. Brown makes him run away into his hiding place. One of Frank's favorite pastimes is killing flies and Mr. Brown prides himself on the number he can kill in a day. He has no use for screens and fly paper when Frank is at home.

Mr. Brown a father and mother. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Brown, are both dead and he is now having J. E. Keith & Son, of this city, erect a handsome monument at their grave. He has a sister living near Tobinsport who is his only near relative in this part of the country. He intends to go on his shantyboat in a few weeks to Paducah, to get work on a log boat. This suits him best, he says, and he wants to return to it. Before going he has some business in this city to attend to and several debts to Tobinsport to collect.

Cured of Piles After 40 Years.

Mr. C. Hancey, of Geneva, O., had the piles for 40 years. Doctors and druggists could do him no lasting good. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him permanently. Worthless counterfeits. Sold by All Drug Co.

Big Ones For Pelville

By M. Mosely.

D. J. Morrison, our good postmaster, noted for his truthfulness, says he and his brother, Scott, came across a snake of the spreading viper variety and thought they would poke a stick at it and make it blow and spread. He says it spread and hissed and actually turned itself inside out in a twinkling and was dead in a second.

Rev. James Morgan, of Webster, says his sweet potatoes are remarkable this year, lot of them six and eight inches in diameter and one which could not be gotten into a basket.

Dr. Chambers, of Chambers, is known by every person in the county on account of his being such a good man and fine physician. He related to me recently this singular part of his practice. He says: "Several years ago I was out to see a very fat lady when a pretty little girl baby was born. The little one grew fast and in course of time married. In my practice I was called to see her when a wee tot of a baby girl was born. The child was healthy and grew fast and soon reached womanhood, when she was married. Well, in course of time, I was called to see her and a very sweet little girl baby was born. This child, like its ancestors, was healthy and she soon grew into a pretty girl and was so pretty she married in her teens. This last spring I was called to see her when a boy baby was born." The doctor tells this in a matter of fact way and it is doubtful whether any doctor in the State has had a similar experience. Speaking of the amount of work one man can do in a day, Luke Riggs, who never varies, except in a horse trade, said he knew a man who sheared ninety head of sheep, replanted sixty acres of corn and went to the city after dinner.

"Four Roads to Paradise."

"Four Roads to Paradise" is the title of a novel by Mrs. Maud Wilder Goodwin which is to appear in the Century Magazine, beginning with the November number. This title was suggested by this passage from the Talmud: "Four men entered Paradise: one hehled, and died; one lost his senses; one destroyed the young plants; one only entered in peace." It is a love story of New York people, with the principal scenes in New York and Florence. In character drawing, observation of life, wit and literary finish, the conductors of the Century confidently believe that this novel will place Mrs. Goodwin among the foremost story-writers of America.

The Soil That Breeds Fine Horses

In describing experiments made for the Department of Agriculture on the effects of lime and magnesia upon animal productions D. W. May of the Kentucky Experiment Station remarked that it is a well-known fact that the greatest development in live stock has been attained in limestone regions. He adds that in the blue-grass region of Kentucky, which is noted for the beauty and quality of its live stock, and especially of its thoroughbred horses, the soil has been formed largely by the disintegration of a limestone very rich in phosphates. But even in that favored region of Kentucky experiments are made to determine whether the quality of the animals may not be improved by the addition of certain mineral elements to the food.—Yent's Companion.

Tribute to L. A. Foote.

L. A. Foote, the subject of this sketch, was born April 30, 1831, in Fausquier county, Virginia, and came to Kentucky in 1833, with his parents, Edwin Foote and his wife Ellen Alexander. After coming to years of maturity and being well educated, he married Hannah Stuart, in August, 1853, and spent his whole life in Breckinridge county, Kentucky.

Brother Foote united with the Methodist church in early life, but did not live a Christian for many years. He wandered far from God, was very profane, but on the first Sabbath in March, 1890, through the influence of the writer, after a noted visit to his home the day previous—a visit never to be forgotten—he was soundly and gloriously converted, the occasion being a "Jubilee Service" held at Bevelville church. Brother Foote was an attentive and interested listener. At the close of the special services, he, under force of the Holy Ghost, embraced a number of his brethren, rejoicing on account of his new life. Years ago he was secretary of this Sunday-school, and he discharged his duties faithfully and well and while true to the record he was capable of such versatility of expression as to make all reports interesting and instructive. Mr. Foote commanded the respect and confidence of his brethren. Since his re-consecration he has been untiring in his efforts to do the will of God as he could best learn it from constantly reading His word, attending all religious services and conversing with Christian friends. We have known but few persons who talked so freely yet with such meekness of his spiritual condition and of his hopes for the future. He honored the home of God and loved to take part in all the services, ever performing to the best of his ability any duty assigned him. He will be greatly missed. Mr. Foote is through with this life and its battles and is the first member of his family to lay down his life's armor. We believe he has entered the "Hall of Many Mansions" and there awaits the coming of his children and friends.

Resolved, Second, that this resolution be recorded in the minutes of Bevelville Sunday-school, a copy furnished the family of the deceased, and to the county papers.

Resolutions of Respect.

Resolutions of Bevelville Sunday-school on the death of Mr. L. A. Foote. The Committee appointed to prepare resolutions upon the death of L. A. Foote begs leave to submit the following:

Resolved, First, that in the death of Mr. Landrell Alexander Foote we express our sense of bereavement for the loss of a friend and brother. We gratefully record our love for this noble man, and our appreciation of his earnestness and unselfish devotion to duty. Years ago he was secretary of this Sunday-school, and he discharged his duties faithfully and well and while true to the record he was capable of such versatility of expression as to make all reports interesting and instructive. Mr. Foote commanded the respect and confidence of his brethren. Since his re-consecration he has been untiring in his efforts to do the will of God as he could best learn it from constantly reading His word, attending all religious services and conversing with Christian friends. We have known but few persons who talked so freely yet with such meekness of his spiritual condition and of his hopes for the future. He honored the home of God and loved to take part in all the services, ever performing to the best of his ability any duty assigned him. He will be greatly missed. Mr. Foote is through with this life and its battles and is the first member of his family to lay down his life's armor. We believe he has entered the "Hall of Many Mansions" and there awaits the coming of his children and friends.

Resolved, Second, that this resolution be recorded in the minutes of Bevelville Sunday-school, a copy furnished the family of the deceased, and to the county papers.

Ellen" to back in the sunshine of Eternal Day. Brother Foote lounged and thinned for higher heights, deeper depths, broader breaths and greater lengths, and, I believe, he received the baptism of the Holy Ghost, which is the privilege of every believer. It was ever a pleasure to hear this child of God talk in love feasts and class meetings. My life was made richer by being associated with such a good man. He was my friend in every sense of the word. A true man, a Christian gentleman, and a saint in glory, singing with the power of endless life. I loved Brother Foote with deepest, purest Christian love. I feel poorer because of his translation. Our love was reciprocated. God grant that the entire family may be ready to meet father in that "Sun-bright Clime" where no farewell and no goodbye is spoken. May Heaven's blessings rest upon the bereaved wife and children. Good-bye, Brother Foote, I expect to see you again. Peace to your ashes and sacred to your memory. A calm and undisturbed repose, unbroken by the last of loved sweet he your rest. Till Jesus bids you rise. Till then, farewell, my dear brother and friend. A. L. Meli, Greedville, Ky.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pimples, acne, rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or uneasy heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold in 60 cents and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Name of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Tenets of the Baptists

To the Editor of the Sun, Sir: You are generous in your courtesy to the various religious bodies that I feel confident that you will publish a brief summary of the tenets of the Baptist Church.

The Baptists hold the New Testament as the single standard of faith and practice.

They are not "narrow," in their interpretation of it, but allow the fullest latitude for individual reason. Their cardinal doctrine is the personal belief in Jesus Christ as the only Mediator between God and man, and in the Holy Spirit as His present representative in the world.

They reject the baptism of infants, as they hold that intelligent faith is a prerequisite to church membership. They believe "immersion" to be the only fair translation of the Greek "baptizo," as applied to a religious rite.

Their form of church government is democratic, each member having an equal vote.

They are in close fellowship with all other Christians. In the United States they were the first body to extend religious freedom to all people. This was done by Roger Williams, in Rhode Island.

The Roman Catholic colony in Maryland was the second body to take the step. They were pioneers in foreign mission work—Adoniram Judson being the first American missionary to Burmah.

Numerically the Baptists are third—following the Roman Catholics and Methodists—but as their membership is adult, and includes no small children, it represents a larger constituency than its four and one-half millions would indicate.

The Church is prominently represented in education, literature and finance. No body of Christians has greater reason for encouragement.

In common law the presumption is in favor of an established custom. So in religion the great religious denominations have nothing to fear from passing hobbies and cults, so long as the majority of men are loyal to the simple verities of Scripture, as exemplified in the lives of Jesus and His Apostles.

Last Wednesday afternoon while T. F. Sawyer was towing a large, loaded with home blocks with the Elizabeth, the large cog fastened on some rock in the bed of the river and it took about six hours to get off. The home timber belonged to the United States Home Co., of Tell City. It was shipped from Grayson, about four miles above Stephensport.
